

Rockefellers Toss Them Up Like John D's Famous Dimes

Six Houses A Day For San Juan

LAS LOMAS HOUSING PROJECT in San Juan, seen from the air, covers 200 acres. In right foreground, walls of houses are being completed in a single poured concrete operation.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — (NEA) — The Rockefellers are tossing up houses in Puerto Rico these days the way the late John D. used to toss out dimes.

They're doing it by means of a new technique in home construction which turns out six houses a day on a 200-acre site at Las Lomas. When the $10,000,000 project is completed in 1956, it will total 1,625 three-bedroom houses.

Once the site for each home is ready, the foundations and structural slab are laid down in one operation. Then panels of reinforcing steel for the walls are fastened to the foundations, wiring and plumbing installed and a huge crane lowers concrete forms into place. When the walls have hardened, the same crane lifts off the forms and hoists a single slab roof into place.

The development is a project of the International Basic Economy Corp., which was founded by Nelson A. Rockefeller. Its chairman is Winthrop Rockefeller. The Las Lomas housing development is the largest to be built by private capital in Puerto Rico, and the homes sell for $6,000 with a $300 down payment.

IBEC housing also has plans for a second project at Bayamon, just outside San Juan, which calls for 3,200 homes ranging in price from $5,000 to $10,000 and involves $20,000,000.

Through the parent IBEC organization, the Rockefellers also plan to go into supermarket operation in Puerto Rico. Another member of the family — Laurance — is developing a resort hotel and cottage property, including an 18-hole golf course.

Military Cargo Plane Crashes; 2 Men Killed

ERIE, Pa. — A two-engine C-45 military cargo plane, one of its motors afire, crashed and exploded yesterday near Port Erie Airport killing the two men aboard. Both were stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force base, Dayton, Ohio, where the plane was based.

The Air Force identified them as Capt. Richard W. Lane, 32, of Erie, an 11-year-veteran of the service with 60 combat missions in Europe and Korea, and Second Lt. Robert H. Gingles, 25, Ashland, Wis.

GREEN SCHOLARSHIP SET

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A $100,000 grant to Ohio State University — was presented to the school yesterday by the American Federation of Labor. Green, a native of Coshocton, was AFL president before his death. The fund will be used to promote understanding between labor and management through education. The amount of the grant has been equalled only once before in university history. It will provide for four annual scholarships in the field of labor and industrial relations and liberal arts. George Meany, AFL president, made the fund presentation.

ONE-SHOT METHOD of pouring walls for house has just been completed here as crane takes away forms for use on next house.

If I Were A Millionaire

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Side walk reflections of a pavement Plato: If there is anything harder for the average man to understand than beautiful women, it is millionaires.

Millionaires and pretty women have a great deal in common. They never quite act the way you expect them to. They rarely quite live up to the images of them you have in your mind before you get to know them well.

Women and millionaires (particularly new millionaires) brood a lot. Both are highly suspicious of any attention you pay them.

Both want to be flattered not for what they have, but what they don't have: in the case of women, their brains; in the case of millionaires, their social charm.

Honesty never pays off in dealing with either. They yearn to be admired for some imaginary quality they think they have rather than the one they actually do possess. If you tell a woman she has prettier legs than Betty Grable, she says huffily "is that all you see in me?" If you tell a millionaire, "the thing about you I like is your bank balance," he gets downright insulted.

But why? Anybody who has either beauty or hard cash has an edge in this world, and ought to be satisfied with either one or the other.

A poor man is disappointed with both lovely women and millionaires, and for the same reason.

Neither is as romantic as you expect them to be—or as spendthrift of their charms as you would like. They are cautiously determined to keep what they have intact, whether it be their beauty or their moolah.

Personally, I have found most millionaires boring, fearful fellows afraid to live up to their station in life. My theory is that a millionaire should act like a man and a millionaire and live a rich carefree existence.

Now if I suddenly got a million bucks I'd live up to it. I'd drop all my shoddy pals and start mixing with a better class of people. I'd have a big white button in my lapel that said "I am a millionaire." And when anybody bent over to read what it said on the button I'd squeeze a hidden bulb and squirt water in his eyes.

I'd drink champagne in bed for breakfast, ride on horseback behind a pack of foxhounds down Broadway in the afternoon, and spend my evenings pouring bubbly water down the backs of chorus girls at gay parties.

You wouldn't have to ask where I was. You could follow me around town by the trail of $50 bills I'd let dribble out of a hole in my pocket.

I'd buy me an air-conditioned limousine of silver with diamonds for headlights, and I'd have as a uniformed chauffeur the tallest, suavest, red-headed showgirl in all America.

My bodyguard would be the smallest, toughest, meanest retired jockey I could find. He would go about with me wearing his racing silks and boots, and carry a riding crop in one hand to beat the peasants out of my path and a shotgun in the other to cow anybody who wanted to make something of it.

You think people would hate or despise me? If you do, that's how little you know about people. They always admire a man with a grand manner; one who snubs kings but slips 20-buck goldpieces in a passing beggar's hat.

That's the old-fashioned idea about millionaires. And the secret dream of most people today isn't merely to be a millionaire—but to live like they dream a millionaire should.

High, wide and handsome.

I might die broke and be buried in a pauper's grave, but the man in the street would pay me this ungrudging tribute:

"The guy was a bum at heart, but at least when he had a million

The trouble with most modern millionaires is simply this—they look and act too much like the rest of us pale prisoners of the weekly paycheck.

Michigan Must Pay Axle Tax

Ohio Rules Truckers To Pay after Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State officials indicated today Michigan truckers will have to pay Ohio's axle-mile tax again beginning next Saturday.

Ohio Reciprocity Board member Robert Moulton, who also is state utilities commission chairman, and Joseph Gill, first assistant state attorney general, said the present extended reciprocity agreement with Michigan will cease as of Saturday.

Michigan truckers recently won an Ohio Supreme Court battle which nullified the axle tax as far as out-of-state truckers are concerned. The court said the 1937 reciprocity agreement between Michigan and Ohio applied to the axle tax and therefore the levy could not be collected.

The tax is a mileage levy on trucks with more than two axles using Ohio highways.

Ohio subsequently notified 20 states with which it had motor vehicle reciprocity agreements the pact would be cancelled in 30 days unless they were amended to exclude the axle tax.

Three states agreed to the amendments. Ohio gave Michigan, Illinois and West Virginia extended time to next Saturday to make their decisions. Pacts with 13 other states were cancelled Sept. 9. The Indiana agreement cannot be voided until Oct. 9.

The Ohio Reciprocity Board met with the Michigan board last Friday but nothing was accomplished on a new agreement. Gill and Moulton said they believe there will be no new agreement by next Saturday.

Under Ohio law, the state can extend exemption from license and utility commission fees on Michigan trucks as long as Michigan doesn't require Ohio trucks to pay similar taxes in that state. The two could operate under a "gentlemen's agreement."

Gill said Michigan law allows out-of-state passenger autos to operate in that state for 90 days before they are required to have a Michigan license.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he is trying to arrange a meeting between Moulton and Illinois officials to discuss a new agreement with that state.

Reider Renews His Attack On Lausche

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Former State Rep. Robert W. Reider, now a Port Clinton publisher, renewed his attack on Gov. Frank J. Lausche last night.

He told Democratic county chairmen from Ohio's seventh district to choose an Ohio "favorite son" presidential candidate other than Lausche. "If Governor Lausche goes to Chicago as Ohio's 'favorite son,'" said Reider, "it would seal the coffin in which he has placed the Democratic Party . . . ."

Among those he mentioned as a possible "favorite son" was Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, a former state lieutenant governor and former U.S. Secretary of Commerce. Commented Sawyer: "I have no interest in being a candidate for anything."

Sues Firm Constructing Lisbon Sewage Plant

LISBON—Clifford W. Adams of 48 James St., Girard, injured in a fall June 30 at the village's new disposal plant being constructed on the Lisbon-Elkton Road, is suing the Chicago firm who holds the contract for $100,000 in damages.

Adams, who was working for the West Wind Plumbing Co. of Steubenville, claims the Roberts & Schaefer Co. of Chicago was negligent. He states in his petition that a plank, on which he was standing, collapsed and he fell 25 feet to the ground.

West End Plumbing was hired by the Chicago firm to do the plumbing at the disposal plant.

PACKED IN ICE—Hemmmed in by ice packs off coast of Greenland is this Norwegian sealing ship, the 860-ton Jopeter. A U.S. Air Force helicopter, operating out of Mestersvig, Greenland, evacuated 26 persons from the ship, but the captain and six of the crew decided to stay aboard and await a rescue.

Cincinnati-St. Louis Pike to Be Discussed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Top turnpike and highway officials from Ohio, Illinois and Indiana are expected to sit down together by the end of the year to discuss a Cincinnati-St. Louis toll road.

Officials from the three states agreed last Feb. 21 to study the feasibility of such a route, but turnpike difficulties in Illinois had prevented work on the project.

The Cincinnati Enquirer today reported that Evan Howell, chairman of the Illinois Toll Highway Commission, said the state would be ready to consult with other officials in November or December.

The paper quoted S. O. Linzell, Ohio highway director, and Albert J. Wedeking, executive director of the Indiana Toll Road Commission, as saying their states were ready.

Will Distribute Request Forms For Salk Vaccine

LISBON—Dr. A. S. Rumreich, Columbiana County health commissioner, said today that the Salk polio vaccine for second inoculations to school children this fall should not be confused with the Salk vaccine allocation law signed Aug. 12 by President Eisenhower.

The use of the vaccine approved in August is restricted to school children under 20 years of age and pregnant women, he said.

Dr. Rumreich said request forms for the fall inoculation program for school children will be sent to the schools and distributed by the school nurses. Only those children who received their first inoculation in the school program last spring will be eligible, but they must have their parents' consent.

The vaccine for the second round of inoculations will be available Oct. 3 but will not be distributed until the polio season subsides.

Idaho has 2,706 miles of railroads.

Senate Committee Hearing Something New

Something different has been added by a congressional committee — a palpable effort to aid a propaganda movement by staging a show in the old chamber of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The movement is part of the democratic party's campaign to discredit the security program of the Eisenhower administration. Ostensibly it was all in celebration of Constitution Day. The eleven witnesses sat on the bench of the court while the senators joined the spectators in front of them. Yet the proceedings were officially recorded as a Senate subcommittee hearing.

This bit of theatrical procedure will be construed by many as a subtle attempt to influence the Supreme Court itself. Some of the eleven speakers talked indirectly to the Supreme Court and criticized past decisions.

Much of the propaganda was directed against committees of Congress and the Department of Justice for efforts being made under powers granted by existing law to checkmate the infiltration by Communists and their dupes into the churches, the press, the theater, labor unions, schools, colleges and the government itself.

ONE OF THE SPEAKERS — a prominent Protestant churchman — made a pointed attack on the position of the Catholic church with respect to some legislative questions:

DECLARING THAT he was expressing "one concern in the judicial realm," the speaker issued a warning to the Supreme Court as follows:

"The churches of this country have confidence in the Supreme Court that it will continue to interpret the Constitution in such a way as will protect the religious liberty of even unpopular and splinter minorities. In this process we must confess to a fear that in order to do this, the court may tend to change this nation from a nation under God to a completely secular state in which the law is interpreted as creating a gulf between religion and government, which it is a mystery why, if the churches of America were to be represented, only one man — a radical — was selected to speak. There was no spokesman for those Catholic or Jewish churches or for those Protestant churches and clergymen who do not share the radical views of Dr. Eugene Carson Blake chairman of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States.

Dr. Blake charged that it was not "within the competence of the state to determine what is or is not American." So he objected to the name of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Actually the Congress by laws, upheld by the Supreme Court has never overruled the penalty.

It is not customary for the committees of one house to permit attacks on committees of the other house, but no senator present last Saturday objected to Dr. Blake's attack on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

THEY BELIEVE IN THE RIGHT OF CHURCHES OR PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS TO SET UP SCHOOLS FOR THESE PURPOSES but most American Christians believe this right does not include governmental financial support for them. This ought not to mean that the public, tax-supported schools must be irreligious or non-religious or anti-religious.

DR. BLAKE'S MAIN THESIS was that "many citizens" were being punished for their views and that the House committee has been "confused as to the difference between disloyalty to our country and the holding of opinions which happen to be politically unpopular or publicly embarrassing." That's a parallel point made in the brief filed before the Supreme Court by the Communist party itself.

THE REAL REASON for the laws passed by Congress requiring the Communist party and affiliated organizations to register with the attorney general is because Congress has declared the communist movement to be a criminal conspiracy that maintains and finances an espionage apparatus to try to infiltrate American institutions.

DR. BLAKE, HOWEVER, denounced the "extraordinary power of the attorney general" with respect to listing subversive organizations publicly as if it were an abuse by the executive branch. He omitted to mention that this function was specifically prescribed by Congress.

DR. BLAKE, MOREOVER, needlessly

revived the controversy over diplomatic representation by the United States government at the Vatican and used the occasion to make a speech in opposition. He said that "Whether or not such diplomatic recognition can be fairly construed as contrary to the first amendment may be a moot question."

IF IT'S "MOOT," isn't the orderly way to have a case brought so it can be decided by the Supreme Court on its merits? What abuse of constitutional rights is involved in an act that is not taking place?

Certainly in the conduct of foreign relations, President Truman a few years ago had the right at least to propose such a step and Congress had a right to appropriate funds for a legation or embassy and then, if authorized, the measure could be tested as to constitutionality.

The reasons which Presidents

Roosevelt and Truman had for wanting some form of diplomatic relations with the Vatican had nothing to do with religious beliefs as such. It was for the opportunity the American government would have to obtain timely information on world affairs from the large number of diplomatic posts maintained by the Vatican in many countries including some of those behind the iron curtain.

Dr. Blake went on to argue also the highly controversial question of government aid for private schools and hinted that some kind of religious instruction might be given in public schools.

DECLARING THAT he was expressing "one concern in the judicial realm," the speaker issued a warning to the Supreme Court as follows:

"The churches of this country have confidence in the Supreme Court that it will continue to interpret the Constitution in such a way as will protect the religious liberty of even unpopular and splinter minorities. In this process we must confess to a fear that in order to do this, the court may tend to change this nation from a nation under God to a completely secular state in which the law is interpreted as creating a gulf between religion and government, which it is a mystery why, if the churches of America were to be represented, only one man — a radical — was selected to speak. There was no spokesman for those Catholic or Jewish churches or for those Protestant churches and clergymen who do not share the radical views of Dr. Eugene Carson Blake chairman of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States.

Dr. Blake charged that it was not "within the competence of the state to determine what is or is not American." So he objected to the name of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Actually the Congress by laws, upheld by the Supreme Court has never overruled the penalty.

It is not customary for the committees of one house to permit attacks on committees of the other house, but no senator present last Saturday objected to Dr. Blake's attack on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

THEY BELIEVE IN THE RIGHT OF CHURCHES OR PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS TO SET UP SCHOOLS FOR THESE PURPOSES but most American Christians believe this right does not include governmental financial support for them. ## Questions Hike In Bypass' Cost

5 Million More Asked For Mansfield Road

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway director, Samuel O. Linzell, today is trying to answer the 5 million dollar question.

The question was asked by Clingan Jackson, chairman of the state highway construction council, in a letter delivered to Linzell yesterday afternoon. The question:

How can Linzell justify his request that the cost of the Mansfield bypass be boosted by 5 million dollars?

At stake is the fate of the planned 6.9 miles of four-lane divided highway skirting the city limit of Mansfield. The highway department announced only yesterday the project would be up for bids before the year ends—and listed the estimated cost at 7 million dollars.

Now the department says the cost will be 12 million dollars, and the construction council, which approves or turns down projects on major Ohio roads, wonders whether that much money should be spent.

Officials of every Ohio city planning or hoping for a bypass are interested in the outcome.

Jackson's letter noted the project is "considerably different" than the one approved by the council and submitted to the Legislature with the okay of Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

And Jackson said the council is considering the proposed changes "painstakingly" because the council and the governor told the Legislature changes would be made in the highway program only if there were good reasons for them.

The Legislature approved, project by project, construction for two years. If extra money is spent on one project it might mean another one is removed from the program.

Jackson said the Mansfield bypass is the biggest project of its type considered so far. And he said that if it is built as the highway department recommends it would be more of a local expressway for Mansfield than a bypass to get through traffic around the city quickly.

Calling attention to Mansfield's population of 43,000 Jackson said:

"This project would cost more than the total allocation (of state funds) for a city of more than 200,000 people."

While it was not included in the letter, Jackson said Canton, for example, is allotted only 7.3 million dollars in projects for a 10-year period, and that city will contribute about one-fourth of the cost.

While the Mansfield bypass would be outside Mansfield, it would run through a heavily populated rural section. Jackson asked for Linzell's view on building an expressway at the edge of a town "with very little or no city contribution."

Pointing out Richland County traffic is relatively light when compared to that in the larger counties, Jackson said some cities as large or larger than Mansfield have no bypasses scheduled.

A spokesman for the highway department said there has been a decided increase in the cost of the project due "to an accumulation of things." All details aren't available, he said.

Now the project includes more interchanges and would be a bit longer. Also, he pointed out, it would also serve workers at a General Motors plant planned for the Mansfield area.

Man Attempts To Rob Bank by Hoax, Is Seized

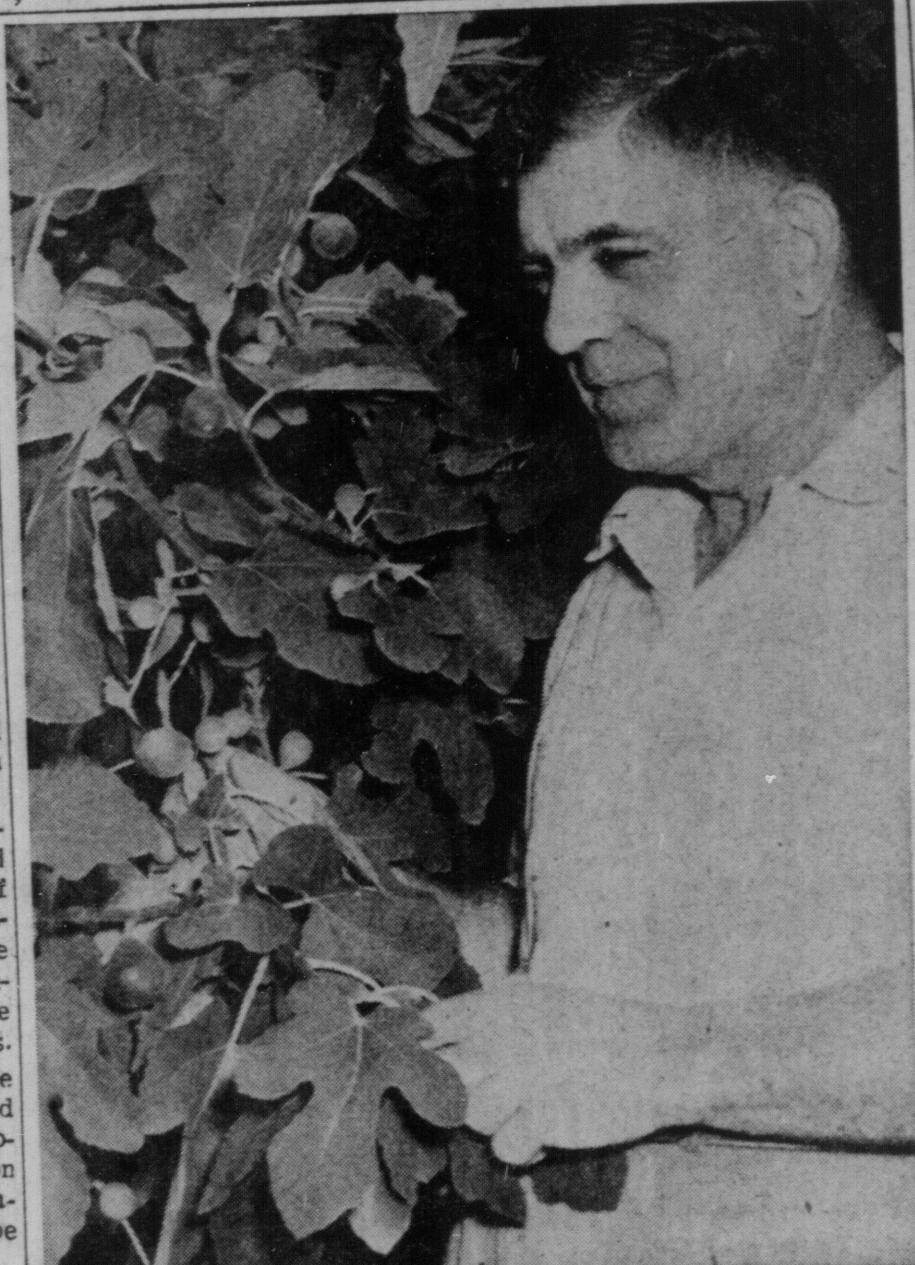

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A machinist who allegedly attempted to rob a bank because he wanted $50,000 for a rest was resting today in jail.

Police said Francis McMullan, 40, walked into the bank Monday pulled a plunger from his briefcase and told Manager Craig Edwards: "I want $50,000 cash or I'll blow you and this whole place up."

Edwards said he followed McMullan to the vault. A few feet from the door the manager gave him a shove and slammed the grill door. It locked automatically.

Police said the briefcase contained only a hoax bomb. They withdrew McMullan from the vault and booked him on suspicion of bank robbery.

"I was tired of being poor," they quoted him, "and I thought if I had $50,000 I could get some rest."

Deportation Of Racketeer Halted

U. S. Sought To Get Brancato Out Quickly

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge yesterday nipped an immigration department scheme to whisk alien racketeer Frank Brancato out of the country before his lawyer could delay deportation proceedings.

The judge, Charles J. McNamee, was almost too late.

By the time he ordered Brancato brought back for a hearing on a habeas corpus writ, immigration agents had bundled the 58-year-old prohibition era kingpin into an airplane and were on their way to Boston. At Boston they planned to put him on a plane to Italy.

But Judge McNamee's order had reached immigration headquarters in Washington, and the trip was halted. Brancato was flown back to Cleveland where his round trip had started when he showed up at the Federal Building to surrender as a deportee.

Brancato had fought for 6 years against return to his native land. A deportation order was issued several weeks ago, but the Italian government did not agree to accept him until last Sunday.

When he walked into the Federal Building yesterday, he was accompanied by his lawyer, Henry C. Lavine who previously had announced he would fight the deportation order. But as Lavine sought a judge to request the habeas corpus writ, agents seized Brancato and hustled him to Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

Lavine's action contends there were 16 grounds of "bias and error" in Brancato's prosecution and that Italy was pressured into accepting him.

ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Hathel Creech, 33-year-old Dayton cabinet maker, is on trial here for his life. He is charged with first degree murder in the gunshot slaying of his estranged wife, Delores, 26, last July 9 in a restaurant here. The trial opened yesterday before three judges after Creech waived jury trial.

"THE HAPPIEST DAY OF MY LIFE" — Lawrence Robert Buol, 34, imprisoned for five years by the Chinese Communists, is embraced by his wife, Sue, as he crosses the border into Hong Kong, and freedom. "This is the happiest day of my life," said the former Marine and Flying Tiger pilot.

Murderer Flees Jail, Later Gives Self Up

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Harvey John Collins, 29, a convicted murderer who broke out of the Pierce County Jail with six other inmates Sunday, gave himself up Monday night to Sheriff Harold Bird.

The capture of Collins left only three of the seven escapees still at large. Three were taken into custody Monday. Collins was convicted of the not immediately determined.

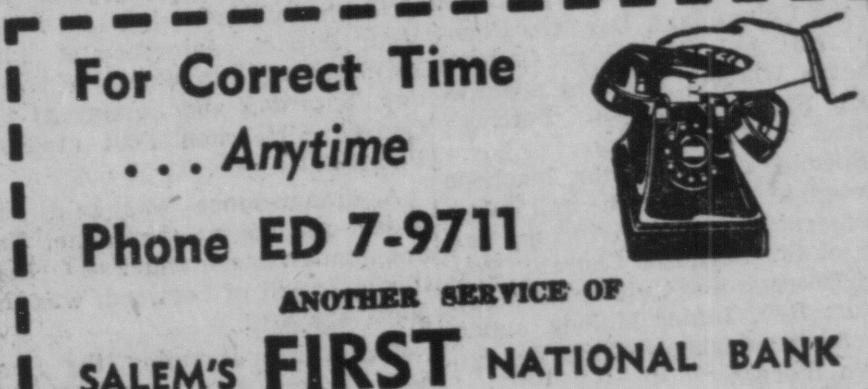

CHILD BURNS TO DEATH

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—David Scott Sargent, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sargent, burned to death yesterday in a fire that destroyed the Sargent home north west of here. The parents and two other children escaped. Sheriff's deputies said cause of the fire was Samurai sword slaying of a Tacoma motel operator last March. Police said he also admitted slaying two other persons.

Flag Flies on Courthouse, Thanks To U. S. Marines

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Stars and Stripes are flying again atop the old courthouse for the first time in about a year, thanks to the U.S. Marines.

The climbing of stairs 162 feet to the flag pole on the dome was regarded as too much for the elderly custodians of the building.

Lt. Col. John J. Jarvis, commander of the Marine recruiting service in the Federal Building, made the report Monday after his arrival here on the survey ship Requisite.

All the ships now are safely west of Point Barrow, northernmost tip of North America, on their return trip, he said. The ice knocked holes in four ships and took out the rudder of another, but all were able to proceed, he added.

Off-Duty Policeman
Shot During Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—An off-duty police detective, standing at a bar in downtown Cincinnati, was shot to death last night when he attempted to stop two men from holding up the tavern.

The victim was Walter Hart, 48. He wounded one of the two gunmen before he was felled.

None of the bystanders was hurt.

Mr., Mrs. Edmond Johnson On Honeymoon In Virginia

Edmond Gayle Johnson and his bride, the former Marilyn Kerr, are honeymooning in Virginia. Upon their return they will make their home at 1406 Sinclair Ave., Steubenville.

The couple exchanged their wedding vows Thursday evening in the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. E. M. Parks, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of Mrs. Nellie Kerr of E. State St. and Raymond Kerr of N. Lincoln Ave. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson of Mingo Junction.

Tapers in a pair of seven-branch candelabras lighted the setting of palms, grape ivy and baskets of white gaudoli. Mrs. Eldon Bentley, organist, played "I Love You Truly," "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt, and the traditional wedding marches.

Mr. Kerr escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of white Chantilly lace was styled with a fitted bodice with stand-up collar of lace with a net insert and long pointed sleeves. The ballerina length skirt of nylon net over satin was fashioned with lace inserts and a panel of accordian pleated net.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a bonnet of white slipper satin designed with appliqued rosettes and seed pearls. With her white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom's mother, the bride carried a white orchid with lily-of-the-valley and white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Jack Thorne, matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of powder blue nylon lace styled with a bow trimmed mandarin collar and elbow length sleeves. The nylon net skirt was worn over taffeta. Her colonial bouquet was fashioned of pink rosebuds, blue delphinium and ribbon streamers, and she wore a picture hat of matching net with floral trim.

Jack Thorne was his cousin's best man. Keith Allison of East Liverpool, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and another cousin, Conrad Thorne of Lisbon, ushered.

Mrs. Kerr was gowned in wedge-wood blue taffeta with applied lace and pearl trim. She used black accessories. Mrs. Johnson wore a lace trimmed dusty rose silk crepe dress with toast accessories. Both complemented their attire with white rose corsages.

The reception was held in Goshen Grange Hall for 75 friends and relatives from Salem, Lisbon, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Mingo Junction, Martins Ferry, Columbus, Youngstown, Columbian and New Castle, Pa. Miss Joyce Langher, classmate of the bride, registered the guests.

The refreshment table, laid with white linen featured pink and white appointments. A three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with a bride and groom figurine, was encircled with ivy and pink rose buds.

Those serving were Mrs. Keith Allison of East Liverpool, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Vera Thorne, cousin of the bridegroom; and Miss Patricia Kerr of Salem, cousin of the bride.

The bride, a registered nurse, is employed by Salem City Hospital. She is a graduate of Salem High School and Salem City Hospital Association School of Nursing. A graduate of Martin's Ferry High School, the bridegroom is employed by the Ohio Power Plant at Brilliant.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Johnson wore a metallic gray suit with velvet trim and pink and black accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

visor, saw a blonde woman walking from the hospital shortly afterward with a baby.

Inspector George Dyer described the woman as a "white female American, about 34 years of age, between 5 feet 5 and 5 feet 7 tall, weighing between 150 and 170 pounds."

He said she was large-busted, clear-skinned and with long blonde hair and gave the general impression of "undressiness."

Dr. Marcus, a staff physician at the hospital, pleaded in a radio broadcast addressed to the kidnapper:

Parents Broken Hearted

"I realize that you probably took this baby for your own, to give it all the love and affection a fine new baby should have. But you must understand that you have left behind two heart-broken parents — a mother, who is on the verge of complete collapse and a father whose dreams of having a fine strong son are shattered.

"We will bear you no ill will for loving our son too."

"Please, please return him in good health to us."

The doctor told newsmen, "My wife and I are not vindictive. We will not prosecute if our baby is returned to us unharmed."

"And we are certainly poor candidates for ransom."

"The woman is just hungry for a child."

The hospital offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the baby's recovery.

Mrs. Marcus, 29, was put under sedatives. Her husband is 34. They have two other children, Richard, 3, and Sudan, 2.

Alexandria, were found early Sunday morning, Sept. 4.

First Called Accident

Police first marked the case as a double automobile fatality. Kenneth had told officials his mother was driving his ailing father to a hospital. She lost control of the car and it crashed into the ditch. Kenneth had burns on his body and clothing as souvenirs of the ensuing fire. The coroner ruled the Bowmans had died accidentally in the auto wreck and blaze.

But Willis Peterson, arson bureau chief in the state fire marshal's office, became suspicious. The fire had started inside the car away from the engine. The gas tank was intact. The evidence pointed to arson.

Autopsies Ordered

Autopsies were ordered. The Bowmans' bodies were dug from their Preble County graves. The examinations indicated Bowman was shot to death and Mrs. Bowman was strangled.

Kenneth was charged with arson and murder. He was put under observation in the psychiatric ward at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton. First he refused to talk about the events leading up to his parents' death. Then under the close questioning of Fahrenholz, he started to pour out his story.

He became remorseful and sobbed, "I loved my mommy and daddy." He never gave a reason for his actions.

Sheriff Floyd Spilker and Fahrenholz said they were unable to uncover a motive for the slaying of the couple who had cared for Kenneth since he was 2 years old.

The boy had been a junior at West Alexandria high. A teacher said he had been "just a normal boy," "an average student."

Juvenile Court Judge Donald L. Ziegel indicated Kenneth would be sent to Lima State Hospital to see if it can come up with some of the "whys" of the boy's behavior.

Firestone Electric Co. of Salem was the other bidder, offering to do the work for $750.

U.S. Lines Up Support To Keep Communist China Out Of UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—As U.N. delegates gathered for the opening today of the 10th General Assembly, the United States marshaled support to knock down any fresh Soviet bid to seat Communist China.

Acting president, J. M. H. A. Luns of the Netherlands, rapped the gavel to launch the new session.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. expressed confidence the United States had lined up enough votes to keep Red China out.

Diplomats anticipated that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, here for his first Assembly since 1946, would make the annual bid to unseat the Chinese Nationalists.

There was speculation, however, that the Russians might leave the initiative up to some other power sympathetic to the Peiping regime.

An East-West test of strength was also seen shaping up in the hot contest between the U.S. backed Philippines and Soviet supported Poland for Security Council seat.

The Assembly will swing into its general policy debate as soon as it clears aside organizational matters—election of a president, seven committee chairmen and Assembly vice presidents—and adopts an agenda.

The presidential election was expected to be routine, with Chile's Jose Maza so far unopposed.

Because of the presence of the Big Four foreign ministers, interest centered on what the United States and Russia would have to say in the policy debate. Secretary of State Dulles will take the floor Thursday, Molotov the following day.

Molotov's decision to attend the Assembly gave rise to speculation Moscow plans to bring up important questions.

Disarmament is the major single topic before the Assembly, but the delegates are not expected to take it up until after the Big Four thresh it out in Geneva.

Some diplomats speculated that Molotov might follow up Russia's agreement Monday to give the Porkkala naval base back to Finland with demands that the United States also relinquish bases in foreign lands.

State Shows Pictures Of Slaying Victim

CHARDON, Ohio (UPI)—Burley Leo Cavey looked on impassively in a courtroom yesterday as the state showed grisly color slides of the beaten body of an old man he admits he killed.

Wearing slacks and a yellow sport shirt, the 43-year-old well driller was seated directly behind the projector which shone the slides on a screen in glaring color.

When a reporter asked him during a recess what he thought of the use of the slides, Cavey took a drag on a cigarette, shrugged and said, "I guess it's the state's privilege to show them."

The slides were used over a strenuous objections of defense attorneys who claimed they might prejudice the jury.

Cavey is on trial on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of 80-year-old Alva J. Williams, a wealthy mil owner, last May. Four days after the slaying Cavey led officers to the body, which was lying under a pile of rocks and logs.

He admitted in a signed statement that he killed Williams, but pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

The state plans to prove with circumstantial evidence that Cavey also robbed Williams of a "substantial" amount of money after beating him to death with a pair of pliers in an argument over the price of a bushel of coal. Cavey denies robbery was involved.

Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel Gerber, who performed an autopsy on Williams' body, testified that 25 blows to the head could be counted in the color slides. He said Williams received nine separate skull fractures and numerous hemorrhages and undoubtedly had still been alive after he was left under the rocks and logs.

Because of the presence of the Big Four foreign ministers, interest centered on what the United States and Russia would have to say in the policy debate.

Hurricane Permitting, Marciano To Box Moore Tonight

Champ Favored By 3½-1 Odds

Moore Still Claims He'll Take Title

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The heavyweight championship bout between Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday due to hurricane Irene.

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Irene permitting, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will match brute strength and power punches against the finesse, experience and sharp hitting of 38-year-old Archie Moore in a 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium tonight.

If a postponement is necessary, the fight will be held Wednesday, with Thursday the next delay date.

The odds were 3½-1 the undefeated Brockton strong boy would make Moore his 49th victim.

It was even money that Moore, stopped four times in his 19-year career of 144 fights (120-19-5), would not come out for the ninth round.

Despite the odds, the poised light heavyweight champion was as confident as ever he would become the oldest man to ascend to the heavyweight throne.

"I never was more sure of winning a fight and I will win this one," he said. "I think it will be by a knockout."

The 31-year-old heavyweight king is just as anxious to get in there with Moore as the veteran is to get his long sought crack at the title. Archie's needling campaign has stirred up the Brockton Blaster and his intimates say he is burning with a desire to crush the cocky challenger as quickly as possible.

Rocky never has been a shining star in his workouts, but for this bout he has looked tremendously impressive. The shortarmed, heavy-thighed champ has displayed an assortment of fast, precision punches as well as the old reliable "Suzy Q"—a looping over hand right to the head.

Moore went through his paces in leisurely fashion, just working on his timing and accuracy. It was the same sort of preparation used by Jersey Joe Walcott, who won the title at the age of 37.

Moore is bucking two jinxes. No reigning light heavyweight champion ever has beaten a heavyweight ruler for the title. Seven have tried. Then, too, 12 previous challengers who attempted to win the title in Yankee Stadium were defeated. This corner strings along with the jinxes, picking Marciano to stop Moore within five rounds.

With one eye on the skies and with fingers crossed, promoter James D. Norris said that with a break in the weather he still was hopeful of a 50,000-55,000 crowd and a $750,000 gate. The advance sale had zoomed close to the $600,000 mark when Irene reared her ugly head.

There will be no home television but the 15-rounder will be broadcast by ABC at 8:30 p.m., CST.

A closed circuit telecast will be beamed to 128 theaters in 92 cities and also will be piped to four veterans hospitals.

On an average of $3.50 a seat, the theater gate could go over the million-dollar mark, netting the International Boxing Club about $300,000 as its share. Radio brings in another $35,000. With everything figured in, Rocky may earn $400,000 and Archie $200,000.

Marciano expected to weigh 187 pounds, two lighter than he scaled when he stopped England's Don Cockell in the ninth round May 16. Archie planned to come in at 185 pounds, 10 more than he carried when he flattened middleweight king Carl (Bob) Olson in the third round June 22.

Greenberg Says Failure To Land Mickey Vernon Cost Tribe Pennant

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Inability to conclude a trade for first baseman Mickey Vernon of Washington cost Cleveland the American League pennant, Hank Greenberg said today.

The Indians' general manager estimated the Tribe probably would be several games in front instead of two behind the New York Yankees had the proposed deal gone through last June.

At the same time, Greenberg reaffirmed his complete faith in manager Al Lopez despite the club's recent record.

"I think Lopez did a much more outstanding job this season than when he led the club to a pennant and a record-breaking 111 victories in 1954," Greenberg said.

The major handicap this season according to Greenberg was the team's inability to come up with a solid, everyday first baseman to fill in for the ailing Vic Wertz.

"I spent the better part of a week trying to persuade Clark Griffith (Washington owner) to trade Vernon. He was quite willing but he wanted a flock of our young ball players to keep the club balanced."

Among the young players, Greenberg thought Colavito was "a sure fire big league star of the future."

He also had words of praise for other prospects including Billy Harrell who replaced George Strickland at shortstop Sunday.

"It's stupid to break up the Indians because we lost four straight," Greenberg said. "What the Yankees had lost four straight? Would they then have to

Despite the Indians' sudden demise, Greenberg said there would be no major player shakeup next year.

"We have a lot of young players with ability but who lack experience," he said. "We'll have to stick with our older players and infiltrate with young players to keep the club balanced."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

When the nation's top police of- napping of William Grami, leader of J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, writes a letter to the nation's top labor chief, George Meany of the AFL, that in itself is news.

The fact that such a letter was sent at this time is, to me, more significant than the content of the missive. No other national investigator agency that I've seen at work — from Scotland Yard to Red China's "People's Armed Police Force" — would take the painstaking trouble to put on record in this manner its attitude on the civil liberties involved in any single case.

We are in the midst of a great debate on civil liberties. The FBI has been attacked for moving into some causes celebres and for failing to move into others. One such blast at the FBI came recently from a California labor official — who blistered the bureau for refraining from probing the kidnapping and beating of a Teamsters Union organizer at Sebastopol.

"I am amazed that anyone holding as prominent a position as Mr. Diviny would publicly criticize this bureau or any other organization for that matter without first having the compete facts upon which to base an allegation."

"... On the morning of the assault took place, Aug. 12, 1955, the FBI was notified by the Sonoma County Sheriff's office of the details of the case and that the sheriff's office was conducting an investigation."

"SINCE THE FACTS indicated this was purely a local matter and there was no evidence of a federal violation, this bureau conducted no investigation. Had we conducted an investigation where no evidence of a violation within our investigative jurisdiction existed, then we could be subject to criticism and justly so."

"I have also noted that page one of 'Labor's Daily' for Sept. 2, 1955, contains an article entitled 'FBI criticizes for Keeping Hands Off' which refers to Diviny's 'blistering attack on the FBI'."

"Mr. Diviny has a right to his own opinion, but I do not feel that any of us have the right to be wrong in our facts. Mr. Diviny did not have his facts right, nor did he exercise the common courtesy of contacting this Bureau in an effort to determine what the facts were before publicly making his critical remarks. I shudder at the public reaction if I, or any employee of this bureau, were to make such statements and draw such conclusions as Mr. Diviny did in his speech without having all the facts."

"Sincerely, J. Edgar Hoover."

IT SHOULD ALSO BE pointed out that the Federal kidnapping law states that there must be inter-

Apple Pickers Arrive In Columbiana District

COLUMBIANA — Apple pickers have begun to arrive in Columbiana, 34 having been allotted to growers within the last few days. Although the labor situation is acute, George M. Griffith of 109 S. Vine St., Columbiana, secretary of the Farm Labor Association of Northeastern Ohio, Inc. expects more arrivals this week and says additional labor can be recruited on short notice.

The first arrivals have been in the employ of the Green Giant Co. at Beaver Dam, Wis., and Lemark and Belvidere, Ill. The meeting of growers in Columbiana city hall Monday was called by the State Employment Service to get an estimate of labor needs.

Columbiana Farm Bureau Cooperative is preparing to accommodate an attendance of about 100 at the potato grading school at its warehouse here at 8 p.m. on Thursday. All potato growers are invited. Grading and marketing will be the subjects of speakers from Columbus.

Reduction of faulty potato grading will be discussed by E. C. Wittmeyer, extension horticulturist from Ohio State University, and M. L. Prather of the Ohio Bureau of Markets. Victor E. Kearns, manager of the Ohio Potato Growers' Association, will talk on marketing the crop this year.

The school was arranged at a recent meeting here of the directors of the Columbiana and Mahoning County Potato Growers' Association. Refreshments will be served.

THE BUREAU HERE was represented at a district sales conference embracing 20 counties at Kent Monday by Manager Robert Kimmel, Robert Black and William Jones. The second of the 2-day conference, the bureau was represented by Mrs. Edythe Wolfgang and Heinz Steeb. Marketing Manager Carroll Gundon was unable to attend.

co-operate in this survey, even though some firms are not present-ally affected by foreign trade.

The survey, which will be com-pleted late this year will receive his closet scrutiny, the congress- man says, and will enable him to watch for future proposals to increase in interest rates — and hence an increase in the cost of doing business — and to make the banks scurry around to find new money to lend to their many would-be borrowers.

The mild restraints may take visible form in the months ahead. They are chiefly aimed at acting as a governor to prevent the busi-ness boom from running away.

But so far there are few signs of slowing down — and many signs of more industrial and trade activi-ty the rest of this year.

Far from being deterred by higher interest rates, business men are planning to find some 7½ billion dollars to put into expansion of plants and buying of new equipment in the final months of this year.

Unimpressed by warnings that only easy credit terms could keep auto sales booming, the auto industry says it plans to turn out 1956 models at the same fast clip it set when it introduced the 1955's. Car dealers are being warned to prepare for even keener competition next year.

And the industry intends to go right on expanding.

The housing industry was thought by many to be a particular target of the credit-tightening program. And in July the starting of new homes faltered a little. But it snapped back in August and builders say the revival is lasting in September. August starts the building pace eight per cent higher than a year ago and almost even with the 1950 record.

Tightening in mortgage money supply hasn't been felt much yet, say the bankers. Financing for new homes is still available. But the bankers believe that before much longer the money supply for new mortgages will get tight indeed.

Retail hopes, indeed, are running high for record Christmas trade in all lines, whether those for which people usually pay cash or those which they usually put on the cuff.

That manufacturers agree is shown by the orders pouring into the basic industries. Steel mills are operating only a little below capacity. Orders crowd their books for the rest of the year. Customers are asking about deliveries in the first months of 1956.

There is no sign yet of any let-down in steel demand.

The brakes may take hold later, but as of now business is still booming.

The program opened with the group singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "Auld Lang Syne." Ernest Kampfer read a poem, "Song of the Lazy Farmer";

Mr. Heinzel talked about his experiences as past county deputy; Mrs. Heinzel read a poem on service; and Mrs. Lester McCrea whistled and played "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." The song "God Be With You" closed the program.

Lecturer, Patty Rhodes read jokes and directed games for the juvenile program.
